The payments, it will be seen, exceed the receipts. About $125,000 of Government Stocks have gone forward within a day or two for redemption at Wash-Albert H. Nicolay's semi weekly auction sale of

The steamer to day took only $55,000 in specie, of which $50,000 was in silver. A considerable amount of foreign silver coin is coming here from the West, and will be remitted abroad. Some of the benks continue to receive gold from the interior, but some pursels are also being sent away to assist needy banks There being no demand for gold bars for suipment, it is probable the next California arrival of gold will be ordered into gots. The non-arrival of the Central America has created considerable unequiness, and had a sensible effect upon the stock market toward the close of the day. All the information that could be collected in regard to this ship will be found in another column. In money matters there is no important change. Paper does not improve, but the demand for favorite names is good. Among the stock houses there appears to be no distress for facilities. Their business has been much contracted of late, and much less money is now needed to carry stocks than six months since. We hear of but one city failure of importance, but mischievous persons continue to circulate rumors invelving some of our leading houses. Some bills drawn by Meyer & Rée, importers, came back by the Persia, and they have suspended.

Three banks have been discredited to-day. The Metropolitan has thrown out the Monson River and Sandford banks of Maine, and the Commercial Bank of Columbia, S. C., one of the old banks, is thrown out at Charleston. A large number of bank officers from the interior are in town negotiating for meens to carry them through the crisis, and it is understood the Saffolk system is seeking for a million of dollars in gold to assist in bridging over the present ran upon the New England banks. These banks, and especially those of Rhode Island, have been extensively engaged in lending their circulation to railroads and others for use at the West. The great scarcity of Exchange at West is now forcing this circulation home very fact, while the securities held by the banks are not available. A telegraphic dispatch from Philadelphia states that several important failures took place there to-day. The amount received for tolls on all the canals of State in order to prevent the stoppage of the work on the canals. The Commissioners do not think a large loan could now be negotiated. The Auditor of the Canal Department says in a letter to the Commis-

* There is now no prospect that the Commissioners of the Canal Fund will be able to negotiate a loan for some months to come; and as the funds applicable to the enlargement and completion of the Canals will be enlirely expended in the month of October next, a SUSPENSION OF PROSESS ON THE PUBLIC WORKS, after the lat province, seems to be inevitable.

Respectfully yours, N.S. BENTON. A resolution was offered at the Board of Brokers to day restricting time sales to three days, which laid ever under the rule. It will not probably be adopted. A metion to reconsider the rule restricting sales to thirty days was lost. The advertisement of Messrs. Grossbeck Bros. to buy and sell stocks on time without regard to the limit fixed by the Board was the subject of a very animated debate, during which a resolution to expel this house from the Board unless the advertisement was withdrawn was laid on the table. It was argued upon one side that this open defiance of the rules of the Board was calculated to bring that institotion into contempt, while on the other hand it was maintained that the Board had no control over the operations of its members outside the Board Room.

In regard to the incoming crop of cotton, the Cirenlar of Mr. Wm. P. Wright, says:

cular of Mr. Wm. P. Wright, says:

Caer.—The position of the crop is uncertain, too much rain has failen in some localities; in others the both worm is doing damage; generally, however, the weather during the past four weets has been fine, and if the picking season is good, and frost holds off until a late period, a fair a reruse crop may yet be seened. Should the first occur prior to lat November, a serious loss in extent of the crop will, of necessity, be the consequence, as from its backwardness it is more than usually ansceptible of injury. All estimates in figures at this stage of the plant, should be entirely disregarded, no approximate measurence can be made until after a Killing frost, and the effects thereof are fully known.

Recurry, Exports, k.o.—The new crop comes slowly to market, fully proving the extreme backwardness of the crop. If y to the latest mail dates, only 1,000 black have been received, against 10,000 to same time last year, and 20,000 black the year.

The exports to Great Ritting are subject output of the crop.

against 19,00 to same time last year, and 39,000 bales the year before. The exports to Great Britain are, and must continue on a very moderate scale for some time to come; receipts are light, and our stock on hand in all the ports of the United States, is but 43,000 bales.

In relation to the South County Bank, The Providence Journal says:

The private property of the stockholders is held for the debts of the bank, and among them are men of large wealth, abundantly able to meet all its obliga-tions from their own resources, if it should be necessa-ry, of which there is no probability.

At Cincinnati on Saturday, before Judge Storer, motions were granted to dissolve the attachments in the cases of the Western Reserve Bank, the Miami County Branch of the State Bank of Ohio, and the Franklin Bank of Columbus against the Ohio Life and Trust Company.

The Baltimore Patriot says:

The Baltimore Patriot says:

"There is but little abatement in the financial presure. In some respects there may be a shade of ease. Confidence has been slightly restored, and there is more hopefulness for the fature. A large amount of business paper is offering at the banks, and the discount, as we are informed, all things considered, to the extent of their ability.

"Good notes are offering freely on the street, and negotiated on the street at 11 to 2 = 24 4° cent a month. Nothing doing in second class. It is scarcely looked at or thought of. Money on call 11 = 11 to 2 9° cent."

The New-Orients Crescent says:

According to The Philadelishing Religion the Monay.

According to The Philadelphia Bulletin the Money market continues stringent and those whose necessities are pressing are compelled to suffer at the rate of 2@2] V cent for the best paper, while other descriptions cannot be negotiated. The banks are doing but little in the way of discount, and appear disposed to fortify themselves for any emergency.

The Boston Post thus remarks of the Money market in that city: There was no improvement in the rates of the Money market last week. There was, however, some settling down from the previous excitement, and a very general acquiererace in the opinion that as far as money slone is concerned things have passed their worst in New York, and that with the granual improvement of that market, we may expect lower raices and a better supply here. But at present money is about as tight and coarce as we have ever known it to be. The very best paper made, if forced apon the street, is not taken below 10 per cent, and where it is sought after hy be tender, it is not dreamed of below 15 per cent, be, either party. For small sums for a few days alvicest fabel us prices are asked and obtained. One per cent and the legal interest, is not an union mon demand. There are various eteries of noted transactions eigenlating in the street. Report says that the city has borrowed temperaity of a large espitalist at 10 per cent. The same lender, it is stated, has taken long acceptances of the Parific Mine, indered by the Directore, at 1; & cent a mount, for $200,000. We hear of one transaction of $75,000 to $100,000, where above 1 & cent a day was paid for a very short time on strong security. Some good grocer's per was passed on S 1 rday at 22 & cent a month. The banks have lost species since our last. On Saturday they held but $2,513,600, the smallest sum since $850. As may be imagined, most of the banks are as poor as can be, and we never knew of more attempts at borrowing from each other. The return of Eartern circulation from New-York beers heavily on the Suffolk for the moment; but of course this lebut one drop of bitter in the cap of sweeness from which stockholders have quaffed large drafts for a series of years.

At Cincinnati the money market was more stringent. very general acquieserace in the opinion that as far ties of venrs.

At Cincinnati the money market was more stringent than heretofore, or rather there was a more pressing demand for accommodations, which it was difficult to obtain. The Gazette says:

"Eastern Exchange continues very scarce at 2 e cent premium. Price seems to be no inducement, for more than 25 e cent of the demand could not be supplied if 5 or 18 e cent were offered. Several exchiers were in from the interior to-day with currency to purchase sight drafts, but there were none to be had. This currency must be employed in senting produce forward so as to make exchange. This is the only remedy.

"There was a better feeling in Trust Company checks to-day, at 55 wide. Creditors of the Central Bank are becoming impatient, and we understand checks were sold to-day at 75c."

At Cleveland the banks were contracting, but there was no patie. Exchange on New York was scarce.

was no panie. Exchange on New York was scarce at 11 ft cent. At Chicago, The Press says:

"Chicago has gone through without a single failure. A more hopeful feeling is springing up. The low prices of grain attract foreign capital. New York houses are said to be making arrangements to invest, and arthorize drafts. One capitalist in Chicago has apprepriated $80,000 to the purchase of wheat for eastern shipment. Rates of money, 21 a 3 ft cent a month for first class."

At St. Louis the market is very stringent, and paper of feet class was selling at 2 a 3 ft cent to mostly.

of first class was selling at 2 . 3 f cent v month. The Providence Journal remarks in relation to the

The Providence Journal remarks in relation to the recent heavy failures in that city:

"It will not be news to any of our readers that the old and respectable house of Phillip Allen & Sons has failen beneath the commencial pressure. The immediate cause of this disaster is the failure of Frederick G. Swan, of New-York, which threw back upon them the paper of the Elm Street Manufacturing Company, on which they were indorsers to a large amount. The reported liabilities of Phillip Allen & Sons including their indorsements for the Elm Street Company have been vasily enagerated. Their assets consist of manufacturing property, print works capable of printing 14 600 pieces a week, and a large real estate. In any ordinary times these assets would be largely beyond the indebtedness of the house. They will make no preferences or next to mone, and the whole of their property will be divided among their creditors. The report in the New-York papers that Zachariah Alten had failed is incorrect. Owing to the paper that comes back to him from Frederick G. Swan and Phillip Allen & Sons, he will probably find it necessary to ask an extension but his property is far beyond his indebtedness, and his embarrassments will be only temporary." rary.

Drove Yard), Forty-fourth street.

THE SALES OF BERF CATTLE are made at a price agreed $\text{P}$ head—the value is calculated upon estimated weight of meat in the quarters. When Beef is quoted at 10 $\text{P}$ in a bullock that will dress $\text{S}$ cwt., exclusive of hide and $\text{R}$, brings $\text{S}$0. Reves are mostly soid by "Cattle Brokers," who are regular sommission salesmen, who receive the stock and sell generally in credit to the butchers, charging the owners commission for eales and quaranty. The brokers also buy droves and sell on their own account. Drovers or farmers may be their own account, but seles for each do not realize as much as brokers' seles.

Vial Calviss are sold by the pound, live weight, and semerally, for first quality, from $\text{S}$\text{T}$, excond quality, $\text{4}$\text{d}$\text{C}$, $\text{F}$ is.

"Kittens"—that is, caives only two or three days old—are sold at so much $\text{P}$ head.

Cows—As a general rule, the value of an ordinary cow is governed by the price of beef—estimating her weight, if fat, and adding a few dollars. Sometimes cows sell very much thater than this, on account of fancy, or supposed or warranted good qualities. A first rate cow, of common stock, with a young salify will ordinarily sell for $\text{5}\text{S}\text{5}\text{5}$. $\text{5}\text{5}$\text{5}$ $\text{5}$\text{5}$\text{5}$ $\text{5}$\t

Another dark day for speculators, who hought upon

Another dark day for speculators, who bought upon the strength of the rise last week, is this one in the Cattle market; notwithstanding its brightness and natural beauty; for it is one of the lovely Autumn days which gladdens nature in this latitude. But prices are depressed upon an average l P cent a pound upon all but the very best class of beeves, and only not as much upon these, because there is a very great searcity: while of medium and inferior the supply so exceeds the demand that the stock cannot be sold within 500 head at any price that owners will name.

The yards are full of light, grass-fed, western steers, that show almost as plainly as though it was written upon them, that the "money pressure" has forced them into market. There are in all the West, herds of cart'e that have been bought upon bank accommodation paper, of 60 or 90 days, with the expectat on of renewal, that the payers find, as it approaches maturity, will not be renewed, and consequently, the cattle designed to consume the great crops of the present year are hurried off in the condition of these today, to save notes from protest. We fear this thing will grow worse and worse every week for the next two months, to the rule of individuals, and to the destruction of a great deal of rawma erial of beef, and less of the vehicles of transportation of coarse grain-the live animals-to market. In this view of the prospect, we earnestly advise all parties to held back all the stock possible; and it will be greatly for the interests of the whole country for Western Bunks to aid feeders to procure and hold cattle for our Winter markets. It is no profit to sell them now, in such a lean condition, not withstanding the price per pound, compared with former years, is not a low one.

Many of the cattle sold here to-day will not bring Many of the cattle sold here to-day will not bring $50 a head, and will sell at a loss of $5 \( \pi \) $10 each to the owners. At the same price \( \psi \) pound, if well fed till next Winter, they would pay for their feed at high market prices, and afford a profit instead of a loss. It is for that reason that we beg all parties to hold them back. If forced in continually as appearances to-day indicate, the price will run down till the play of 1837 will be acted over again. And the disaster will come upon the farmers with a sad effect; and some of them who have sold the very cattle at high prices that are selling at severe losses to day to the buyers, will rue the day they sold them; for they have invested their money in lands, which they will be unable to turn again into money or cattle, at one half the price they cost.

The sales of cattle at Albany, te go East, are reported at near 800 head, but not as usual, of the first quality, because owners and buyers for this market based their prices upon the rates of last Wednosday, which the Boston buyers would not come up to. We noticed last week that several lots of cattle were held back for a better market. They are in this one. It has not afforded the holders much encouragement to hold back again.

The retail sales at Bergen during the week have been pretty large, but generally of inferior quality, and at prices considerably above what the same cattle would bring here to-day. Nearly all the cattle sold at Browning's and Chamberlin's have been small, grass fed steers, and the price has ruled low—that is, low as compared with the price's that people have become so accustomed to that it is difficult to a tapt them selves to the charge which certaily is coming over the cettle market if the panic in the money market continues.

But, let farmers, drovers, feeders, butchers and consumers bear this fact in mind—the depression will $50 a head, and will sell at a loss of $5 #$10 each to ket continues. But, let farmers, drovers, feeders, butchers and con-

But, let farmers, drovers, feeders, butchers and consumers bear this fact in mind—the depression will nearly all fail upon the poorest quality. Good beeves will prebably continue to bear as good prices, compared with the lessened cost in co-equence of improved crops, as they have in the average of the last two years.

Of the sales to-day, we copy a few of the notes made in several of the sale yards.

Miller, Haring & Gorney have had this week the following droves, nost of which sold at Bergen, the rements of several being here to day, and selling a le. 4 B less than the same kind sold for through the week.

For Hiram Guman, 35 light Indians steers sold at an estimated average of $9\(\text{id}\).

Daniel Barries is selling a drove, mostly Kentucky Durhams, for Harp & Britler, estimated 71 cwt, by owner and 7 cwt, by alexamen, at 10c, average. They are only in fatt order to begin

Isaac Barliong has a better drove of the same kind as above,

Orville Hard sold for Smith & Salsbury a lot of nice fat steers from Indians, average 61 own, at $62. They were worth as much perhaps, for market butchers as any lot in market, though not so large as others.

Jos H. Williams is selling a drove of rather ordinary quality of Kestucky Durhams, at lie, for the best, and very slow. We believe he pad yesteriony fee, upon 700 ft average, and in our opinion Mr. S made a very fortunate sale.

Oborge Ayrault has 69 common Ohio steers selling at 10@10gc, for Warner & Madrin for the best, and down to 9c; for the poorest, and very slow at that. He sold to day the balance of J. W. Taylor's Cherokees at less than $50—the 150 sold last week averaged $51, say $4c $\psi$?

Val. a Carey are selling part of W. H. Harries 100 at about 91, average on 6; ewt.; the beat at 10c. for good fair Illinois common stock.

C. W. Conger has Dunlap & Fitch's drove of poor thin Illinois steers, for which $30 was offered at wholesale yesterday, but will not average that at retail to day, as the best half sold average only $30, and $35 over; the belence will fall below $30, and would be worth $40 in Illinois to day.

Henry Hurd sold 25 good Dutchess County steers at 11 211 1/2. Good Sage, here and at Bergen, soid 100 this State cattle at $40 the of all valieties of quality but good.

Who. H. Harrie is selling the McPherson drove of good fair Obio Steers at 10 211c., estimated average weight 7/2 cwt.

Henry Taylor of Jersey City, bought six at $100, that were over 110.

er 11c, Harris sold 20 Pilinois Steers at $37 to the Jews. Mr. Beach has past of two Indiana droves, one of 101 Harris sold 80 fillinois Steers at $57 to the Jews.

Mr. Beach has pert of two Indiana droves one of 101 owned by Mr. Swanks, and one of 72 owned by J. Hussey, the whole of which, with few exceptions were light, poor, mean scallawars, and sold at $3 dide, and its, for the best.

Mr. Phillips sold for Peters a tot of common Ohio steers, $58 to $60, and generally at $3 dide, a pound for the meat.

John Bryant's drove of Ohio steers, selling by Charles G.
Teed, will probably average 6; owt and $55.—the best of them

John A. Merritt has a very fair drove of Kentucky raised and Obio grazed Durhams, owned by Wm. Florence, estimated at 11 cert by salesmen and selling at about 11c. average.

Merritt sold 57 Connectiout steers and ozen at not much over 10c. One pair of ozen are held at $290, with only $250 bid, that the owner was offered $245 for before he left bone. Mr. Merritt sold of hend yesterday at $5 each better than he could get to-day.
